**Parents** I have the lesson plans for the year on the webpage also so that you can see what is happening in this class.

1st Communion parents: You will have the first parent education night on Wednesday for the Presence videos. Please try to be there. I plan to have you in the same classroom you have been in all year. Thank you! (I will hopefully have the other two dates by the start of Wednesday night. I am waiting on Doug to get back to me with a concrete yes.)

Also, 1st communion parents we have a tradition in our churches that after the new year each family is scheduled to bring gifts up in the church they belong to or will be receiving at. I have the All Saints schedule and post it below. If these dates do not work for your family I ask that you talk with another family to switch and then let me know so I can make the change on the ministry schedules posted for the others. I will be needing good weekends for the Immaculate Conception and St. Columbkille families to put together those schedules.
